

Help us fight the cause. Report child abuse @45678900

I would rather carry a school bag

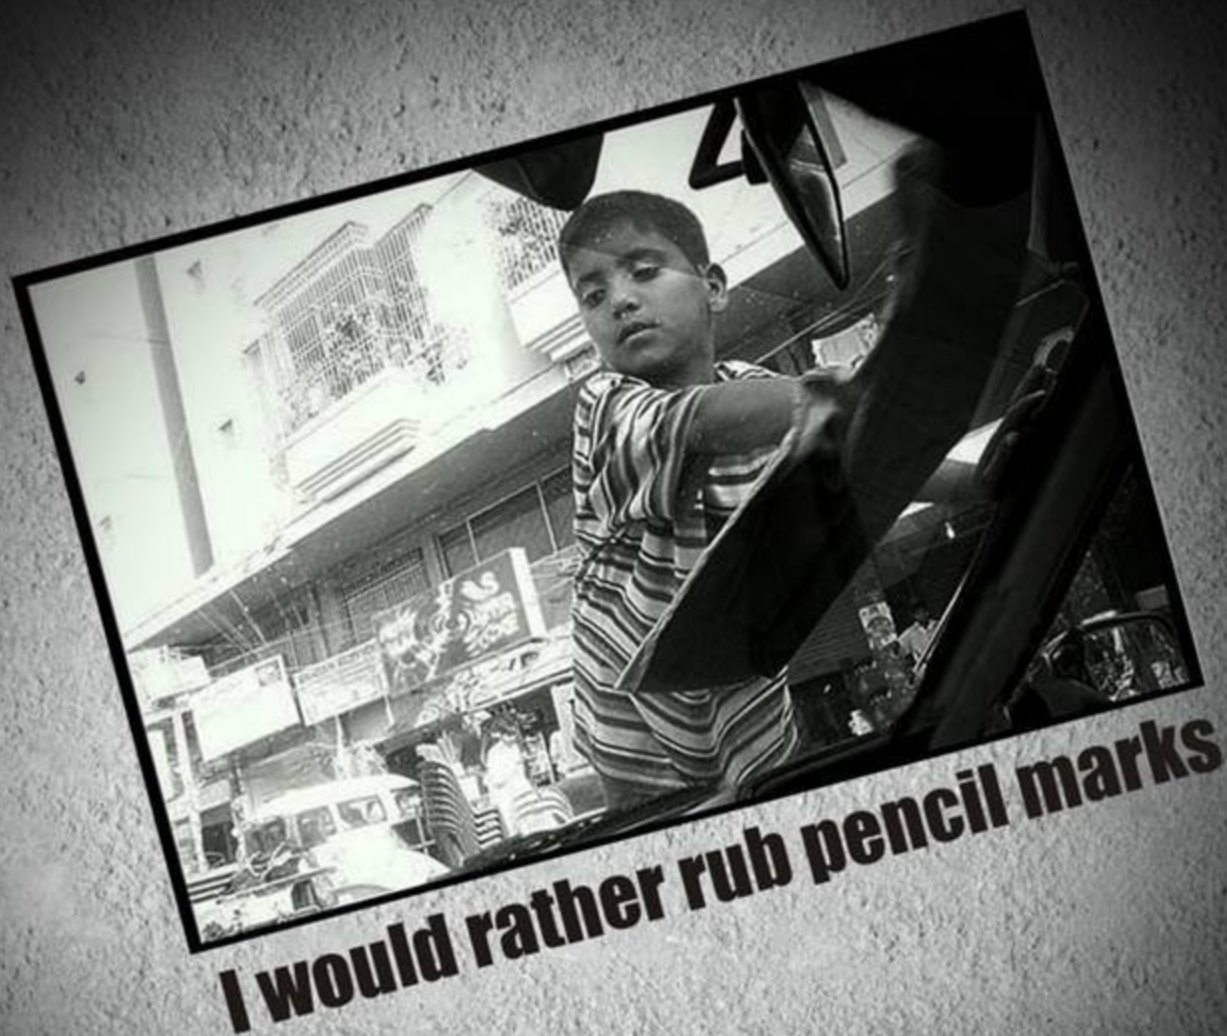

Let innocence live longer

Robbing away beautiful thoughts, adorable ideas and unadulterated goodness is our unending pursuit of using growing hands and un-flowered minds for disgustingly selfish business. From cleaning our window panes to baby sitting our babies, we have relentlessly exploited every aspect of childhood and insensitively enjoyed child service. It's time we woke up to the 100 million children responsible for making our lives convenient, thereby denying them their right to learn & have fun.

Anti Child Labor Campaigns

Help us fight the cause. Report child abuse @45678900

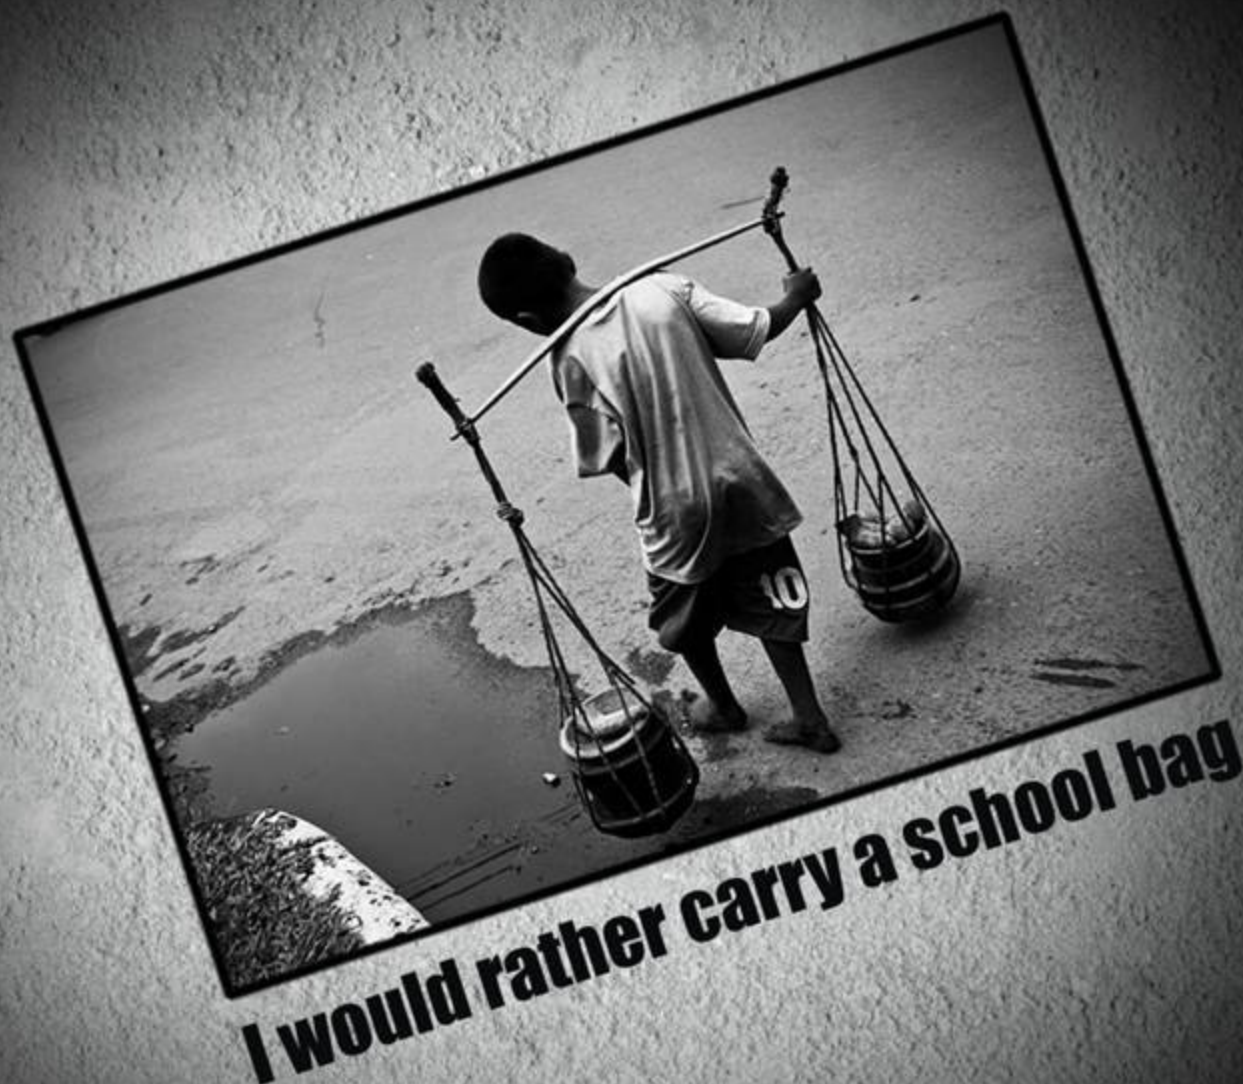

I would rather rub pencil marks

Let innocence live longer

Robbing away beautiful thoughts, adorable ideas and unadulterated goodness is our unending pursuit of using growing hands and un-flowered minds for disgustingly selfish business. From cleaning our window panes to baby sitting our babies, we have relentlessly exploited every aspect of childhood and insensitively enjoyed child service. It's time we woke up to the 100 million children responsible for making our lives convenient, thereby denying them their right to learn & have fun.

Help us fight the cause. Report child abuse @45678900

I would rather carry a school bag

Let innocence live longer

Robbing away beautiful thoughts, adorable ideas and unadulterated goodness is our unending pursuit of using growing hands and un-flowered minds for disgustingly selfish business. From cleaning our window panes to baby sitting our babies, we have relentlessly exploited every aspect of childhood and insensitively enjoyed child service. It's time we woke up to the 100 million children responsible for making our lives convenient, thereby denying them their right to learn & have fun.

Help us fight the cause. Report child abuse @45678900

I would rather ride to school

Let innocence live longer

Robbing away beautiful thoughts, adorable ideas and unadulterated goodness is our unending pursuit of using growing hands and un-flowered minds for disgustingly selfish business. From cleaning our window panes to baby sitting our babies, we have relentlessly exploited every aspect of childhood and insensitively enjoyed child service. It's time we woke up to the 100 million children responsible for making our lives convenient, thereby denying them their right to learn & have fun.

